Allen Rupert Scholarship

The University of Texas at Dallas is proud to award the Allen Rupert Scholarship to one incoming AuD student. Professor Emeritus Rupert was a pioneer in hearing research, who conducted early studies on how nerve cells respond to sounds. After beginning his career in the U.S. Army during World War II he joined the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, followed by Syracuse University. Finally, he joined the Callier Center in 1968, and the UT Dallas faculty in 1973, where he led a distinguished career until he retired in 1995 as professor emeritus. He died in 2006.

The Allen Rupert Scholarship will award one student $1000 per year for up to 4 years of study. All admitted students will be invited to apply, and eligibility criteria is outlined below.

1. Applicants must be incoming or current UT Dallas students.
2. Applicants must be full-time students.
3. Applicants must be pursuing a doctoral degree in audiology.
4. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, U.S. permanent residents or international students.
5. Among equally qualified applicants, preference will be given to an applicant who has overcome barriers in pursuit of his/her education.
6. Recipients must sign a release form, in accordance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), allowing UT Dallas to use application material for fellowship purposes.

If the fellowship recipient continues to meet the eligibility criteria stated above, the student may receive the scholarship until the completion of his/her doctoral degree in audiology, but not for a period to exceed four (4) years.
