Ross Roeser Fellowship

The University of Texas at Dallas is proud to award the Ross Roeser Fellowship to one incoming AuD student. Dr. Roeser's research has largely focused on the application of hearing devices to improve communication skills, and he is recognized for his immense efforts to define and expand the scope of practice of audiologists in the U.S. He began his career in Illinois as a staff audiologist before earning his PhD at Florida State University, and then joining the Callier Center and the University of Texas at Dallas as faculty in the 1970s. He has held numerous leadership positions within the Callier Center and the UTD AuD Program as well as the audiology community at large, such as a founding member of the American Academy of Audiology and long-standing editor of the International Journal of Audiology.

The Ross Roeser Fellowship will award one student $1000 per year for up to 4 years of study. All admitted students will be invited to apply, and eligibility criteria is outlined below.

1. Applicants must be admitted/incoming UT Dallas graduate students or current UT Dallas graduate students.
2. Applicants must be full-time students.
3. Applicants must be pursuing a Doctor of Audiology degree in the School of Behavioral and Brain Sciences.
4. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, U.S. permanent residents or international students.
5. Applicants must demonstrate exceptional academic achievement.
6. Applicants must demonstrate financial need by completing either a financial statement or FAFSA.
7. Prepare a 250-word statement (see below).
8. Recipients must sign a release form, in accordance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), allowing UT Dallas to use application material for fellowship purposes.

If the fellowship recipient continues to meet the eligibility criteria stated above, the student may receive the scholarship until the completion of his/her doctoral degree in audiology, but not for a period to exceed four (4) years.

To Apply:

Provide a 250-word statement that describes how you are prepared to meet the challenge of successfully completing a clinical doctorate in audiology. Indicate how you anticipate you will serve the needs of patients, their families and the profession of audiology.

Submit your statement to UTDAuDCenter@utdallas.edu with the subject line: AuD Roeser Fellowship no later than April 13, 2022. Your statement serves as your application.
