The dynamic, global economy is changing at an ever-quickening pace. Professionals must be competent in the technical areas of business and must understand the “soft skills” needed to manage projects, people and organizations.

Business Administration at UT Dallas
A student in business administration can choose a general business administration degree or concentrate in one of these areas:
- Business Analytics
- Business Economics
- Energy Management
- Innovation and Entrepreneurship
- Real Estate Investment Management
- Risk Management and Insurance
- Sales

A 120-hour curriculum leads to a degree in business administration. All undergraduate degrees require a central core of 42 hours. A capstone course in strategic management allows students to solve real-world business problems. Students are also required to take courses outside the Jindal School in order to broaden their educational experience in preparation for leadership roles as professionals and/or managers in modern business organizations. For information, contact: Associate Dean Shawn Alborz at salborz@utdallas.edu.

Careers in Business Administration
Those who complete a bachelor’s degree in business administration will understand how a firm operates successfully in the business environment. Students gain analytical and technical skills needed to compete in today’s challenging marketplace. Graduates can become senior-level managers and leaders across a wide range of businesses including retail, manufacturing, import/export and trade, consumer products, technology and consulting.

Marketable Skills
Upon successful completion of the BSBA degree program, our graduates will be able to demonstrate proficiency in solving business related business issues through analytical thinking, critical analysis and quantitative methods. The marketable skills for BSBA Program are:
- Identify and solve business problems from the perspective of multiple functional areas of business
- Apply strategic and analytical decision making skills based on data analysis
- Collaborate and communicate across functional areas of business, and cultures through effective oral and communication skills
- Develop teamwork, management and leadership abilities
- Apply principles of business ethics in the context of leading a business enterprise
Naveen Jindal School of Management

The largest of the eight schools at UT Dallas, the Naveen Jindal School of Management offers a full complement of programs at the undergraduate, graduate, PhD and executive levels. The Jindal School’s mission is to meet the challenges of a rapidly changing, technology-driven global society by partnering with the business community to:

- Conduct knowledge-enhancing management research.
- Deliver high-quality management education to a diverse group of undergraduate and graduate students and practicing executives.
- Develop, innovate and continuously improve programs advancing management education and practice.

Management Honors Program

The Davidson Management Honors Program (DMHP) gives select undergraduate students the opportunity to enhance their experience in the Naveen Jindal School of Management. DMHP students receive opportunities to improve their leadership skills and work closely with UT Dallas professors. DMHP program benefits include:

- Smaller class sizes
- Scholarships
- Professional development events
- Travel opportunities
- Community service events
- Honor notation on diploma

Internships and Community Service

All Jindal School undergraduate students must complete an internship and 100 hours of community service in order to graduate. The Jindal School’s fully staffed Career Management Center (CMC), working in tandem with the University’s Career Center, helps students prepare for and seek internships, as well as post-graduation employment. The school’s Undergraduate Programs office directs and coordinates the community service requirement.

Fast-Track Options in the Jindal School

All undergraduate degrees in the Jindal School offer a fast-track option. These programs allow students to earn up to 12 credit hours that can be applied toward a master’s degree. Students with qualifying grades begin the fast-track option in their senior year of their undergraduate program. Fast-track programs require careful course selection and dedication, but can open up opportunities for students who complete the program.
